

THE TRI-WEEKLY HERALD.

NEWBERRY, S. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1865.

Dr. Todd, C. S. A., passed through Newberry yesterday. This gentleman is the brother-in-law of Abraham Lincoln.

Farmers having poultry, eggs, butter, lard, tallow, &c., and who may wish to exchange such articles in small quantities for tobacco or home-spun, can be accommodated by applying at Dr. Grierson's drug-store.

We had the pleasure of an interview yesterday with our young friends Capt. Wm. Holman, and Lieut. T. A. Thompson, of Col. Williams' Battalion. They were recently in command of a detachment in Gen. Johnston's army.

The Seasons.

Nature has been prodigal of her bounty for the past two weeks. For gardens and growing crops the seasons could not possibly have been more propitious, and the prospect of plenty stands out in bold relief, alluring us with the hope of abundance where now is so much want.

Mail for Connor's Brigade.

We have been requested by Mr. Thos. W. Holloway, to state that Mr. Aaron Duncan, mail carrier for Connor's Brigade, will leave Pomaria on the 25th of this month for the army. Letters for that Brigade, therefore, if sent to Mr. Holloway, at Pomaria, by the 24th, will be taken by him.

Easter Election.

At an election for wardens and vestry of St. Luke's (Episcopal) Church, Newberry, held during Easter week, the following gentlemen were appointed:

Wardens—S. Hurd, E. S. Bailey.
Vestry—Dr. T. L. Ogier, E. S. Bailey, S. Hurd, Geo. Robertson, A. J. White, R. H. Grenaker.
Delegates to Diocesan Council—S. Hurd, A. J. White.

The Painful Rumor

Which for the last two days has been steadily gaining in strength, that Gen. Lee's army has surrendered, we cannot believe. The situation of that army must have been dreadful indeed to render such an alternative necessary. Perhaps a fragment of that army, hardly pressed and surrounded, had to lay down their arms, but the whole body, under a general—our acknowledged hope—yielding thus, is too hard to believe. It must be an unmitigated falsehood of the enemy. We anxiously wait further developments.

Child Lost.

During the march of Sherman's army through Lexington District, a little boy, seven years old, was taken by the enemy, supposed to be the 17th corps, and carried with them. He has light hair and black eyes, is exceedingly sprightly for one of his age, and answers to the name of "Preston." If he has been left at any house on the route in North or South Carolina, tidings of his whereabouts will be gratefully received by his parents, who may be addressed through this office.

Papers everywhere are requested to copy once or twice. The father is a Confederate soldier, was in the field at the time and is there now.

Why is it so?

Who can tell why the spirit of extortion and speculation still grows so thrivingly. Day by day do prices steadily, alarmingly advance; an article which is asked $5 for to-day, is $10 to-morrow, and without any show of sense, reason or humanity. In the face of untold disasters, misery and want, at which the heart grows sick, the pulse of the extortionate speculator beats even and quiet, answering in each pulsation to the throb from his heart which says, "hold on for bigger prices, money, more money." What care they for hungry want, abject misery, pale-faced women, or crying children; what care they for country, for honor! Not a fig. The cry is gain. And if the question is asked why the price of an article is double to-morrow what it is to-day, the answer is, the money is valueless. Good for nothing, and yet every body wants it, want more of it, thinking by day and dreaming by night, of adding to it "pile." Strange inconsistency, blind infatuation, heartless inhumanity. Oh ye sleek-faced, well-fed charity ignorers, a commensurate recompense certainly awaits you. The country is being whipped by you, spreading demoralization in the ranks because of destitution at home, and the end of it, if you succeed, will be perhaps subjugation—and the loss of your money. We hear men boast, who take provisions to Columbia and other destitute sections, that they return heavier loaded than they went. Taking advantage of a starving people to add to their gains more good for nothing paper. Who can blame the hope, which we often hear expressed, that our enemies may yet reach and destroy their substance, and would it not involve a more general ruin and distress, such an event would be but a just retribution. How long will this state of things continue?

To THE RESCUE!—Instead of folding our arms in shameful inactivity, trying to save ourselves and our property by disgracefully fleeing at the approach of a mere raiding party, let every man arm himself as best he can and go forward to meet the foe. All that is wanting, is a spirit of determined resistance! A party of less than seventy-five at Staunton Bridge, repulsed a column of more than six hundred Yankees. Have we forgotten, that, Jackson's brave men fought and beat back the Yankee columns with stones at second Manassas? And that a body of teamsters drove off a large body of Federal cavalry near the Potomac in 1863, and saved Gen. Lee's wagon train on his second retreat from Maryland?

Sons of Carolina! the eyes of the world are upon you! the blood of thousands who have fallen in this great struggle for liberty, will cry shame! shame upon you! if you do not rally to the call of your oppressed bleeding country, and strike, at least, one manly blow for your wives and children, your hearthstones and your altars. All are imperilled. Dishonor, degradation and utter ruin are just at the door. Property may be lost, but honor, and liberty may be saved! A.

FROM GEORGIA.—A gentleman from the vicinity of Atlanta reports that the suffering for food in that section has been heart rending. He had charge of commissary stores, and his office is almost constantly thronged with women and children begging for bread. They do not ask for meat, but are satisfied with bread alone. During the late wet weather, females walked as far as sixteen miles in the mud for the purpose of getting meat, which they would carry home upon their own shoulders.

The railroads lately destroyed in Georgia by Sherman have been repaired with great rapidity. The Georgia Road has been repaired, and the cars run from Augusta to Conyer's station, and the remainder of the road would probably be completed to Atlanta within two or three weeks at farthest. Other roads are undergoing repairs, and promise to be ready for travel very soon.

WINNEBAGO, April 12.—A courier just arrived from Camden says that the enemy fifteen hundred to two thousand strong, have left Sumter, and are making their way, it is supposed, to Florence. No great amount of burning was done in Sumter, only the depot and Government buildings being destroyed. The loss of Government stores was very heavy. The troops are said to consist of half negroes and half whites. We have a force at the proper place to meet them.

The report about gunboats coming up the Congaree river has been confirmed by an arrival here. It is conjectured, however, that it is only a foraging party. No other news here of importance.

AUGUSTA, April 12.—The latest advices from Montgomery are up to noon, and state the enemy are six miles from the city. Our troops are preparing to evacuate the place.

Columbus is being prepared for invasion. Stores are being removed. The several hospitals from that city and Macon are ordered to Charlotte, N. C.

The Plattville (Wisconsin) Witness notes the return home of Miss Georgiana Peterman, who has been for two years a drummer in the Seventh Wisconsin regiment. She lives in Ellenboro, is about twenty years old, wears soldier clothes, and is quiet and reserved.
